ENGLAND SUBJECT OF ADDRESS BY F. M. DREW TO NILES CIVIC GROUP

Former Chamber Head Discusses Cultural Differences

Fred M. Drew, head of the Drew Canning company of San Jose, and former Niles Chamber president, who recently returned from a trip to England, was guest speaker Monday at the meeting of the Niles Civic group.

Drew, who is well known in this district, was introduced by Chamber president F. V. Jones, who stated his satisfaction in having such an able and interesting speaker for the day.

Having a keen interest in industrial and cultural differences, Drew gave a vivid talk on English customs, and attainments as compared with those of this country. He spoke at length of the English transportation system, particularly the trains, which he judged superior to American ones in many respects. With their longest runs less than 1000 miles, and due to the fact that they travel at speeds in excess of 80 miles an hour, the English trains do not include sleepers, except in rare cases, Drew said.

Having been a guest in one of the better class English homes during his stay abroad, Drew told of English domestic arrangements and of the English design for living. The latter, he said, was at a slower, more dignified tempo than in this country. The English youth, Drew said, differed from the average American youngsters, in that they seemed content to remain at home, thus making the English family a more homogeneous unit.

In speaking of the much-berated English food, Drew stated that it was palatable enough, particularly the meats. He deplored the English coffee.

Touching on the international situation as he saw it, Drew told that England seems to be farther out of the depression than this country.

Primarily interested in the canning industry, Drew told of the almost impossible competition to American canned fruits by cheaper grade, duty-free colonial canned goods in England. He said that the American product could hope to compete on the English market only by virtue of its superior quality.

Preceding Drew's talk, president Jones appointed a committee to work out details of the Chambers participation in the coming Township Fair. Those named were: A. J. Petsche, Paul Donovan, Harvey Braun and George Erikson.

A number of reports were made by various committeemen.

TWO NILES WOMEN OFFICERS FOR COUNTY P.-T.A.

Two members of the Niles Parent Teachers' association were among the officers of the East Alameda County Council installed last Thursday at the Sunol Glen grammar school, at the annual art exhibit and installation. The meet began at 10:30 in he morning and was adjourned at 2:30 p. m.

Among the new officers seated by Mrs. B. C. Clark, district president and installing officer were: Mrs. Harvey Braun, second vice president and Mrs. Roland Bendel, Standards chairman.

Of particular interest in the display of articles made by school children in southern Alameda county was the display of sewing by the Niles grammar school seventh and eighth grades. This work, according to association members, is outstanding in its class. It received special recognition.

Harry Tripp, music instructor at the Amador high school, presented a number of the smaller Sunol grammar school children in a musical program.

Those who attended from Niles: Mrs. Harvey Braun, Mrs. C. F. Franklin, Mrs. J. D. Galvin, Mrs. B. B. Maciel and Mrs. Roland Bendel.

FORMER REGISTER CITY EDITOR IS GRADUATED, U. C.

Orville Blose, who will ge remembered by Register readers, as first a correspondent for this paper from Decoto, and later, during two vacation periods, as city editor, is among others from this section of the county who have this year finished their studies at the University of California.

After finishing high school, Orville, together with his parents, moved to Oakland. Shortly afterwards he entered the University of California.

The Register has always taken more than a passing interest in the progress of its former employee, and has watched with pride his scholastic progress. Orville has worked his way through college, and during the past year has not only supported himself while carrying on his university work, but has taken his father's place as head of the family upon the elder Blouse's death a year ago. It is this kind of stamina that makes America what it is.

Orville will take a year's additional preparation to fit himself as a teaching instructor. This summer he will be on the staff of one of the colleges in the bay district.

Mrs. Marino Iacopi, and small son, of San Francisco, spent the early part of last week with Mrs. Iacopi's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Antone Garcia, at the latter's home on Cherry Lane.

APRICOT GROWERS SEEK $75 PER TON MINIMUM PRICE

Short Crop Is Cited In Fixing Canning Quotations

Apricot growers of the Santa Clara Valley should receive a minimum price of $75 a ton for their fruit this season it was decided by the apricot committee of the Santa Clara County Farm Bureau Monday night at a meeting held at San Jose.

The committee was formed of representative growers from the Santa Clara district and from Contra Costa county. After naming what they considered a fair price, $75, the growers pledged themselves to hold out for that price or dry their fruit. Washington township growers, of a similar pinion, and possessing some of the best fruit available this season, will no doubt take their cue from the Santa Clara district.

One representative from Brentwood explained to those assembled at the meeting that this was the first year in many in which the cannery buyers are asking the grower what he wants for his fruit. The canner wants the fruit this year ,and seems willing to pay for it.

In the Brentwood district, where some twenty odd canneries are competing for 8000 tons or less of fruit, the price will amount to $75 at present, it is said. This is orchard run. In southern Alameda colunty, and particularly in Washington township ,a number of growers have already sold their fruit at a much lower figure.

Inasmuch as the canner has reached a point where he must have apricots for his cans of fruit salad, it was the general opinion at the meet that the stipulated price per ton of $75 would not be considered outlandish by canning companies.

Grower in the Winters district this week were turning down offers by canners of $50 per ton.

In view of the fact that the short crop will not tax the average fruit drying establishments, growers will have no qualms about drying this year, unless, at it was pointed out at the meeting, the dried apricot prices may not rise in proportion to the canning price, due to competition of the dried cost with other dried fruits in the year.

L. PARKHURST, ONCE NILES RAIL AGENT, ANSWERS SUMMONS

Months of failing health ended in death Sunday for Llewellyn Parkhurst, former Western Pacific agent at Niles, when he succumbed to an attack while visiting his daughter Mrs. Gertrude Randall, at Oroville.

He was transferred from Niles several years ago, and placed in charge of the Hayward station, from which he was on leave of absence at the time of his passing.

He was the husband of Mrs. Alice C. Parkhurst and father of Mrs. Randall, Bruce Parkhurst, of Hayward, Mrs. Doris Rosenheim, of Oakland and the late Llewellyn Parkhurst, of Hayward.

NILES "CLEAN-UP WEEK" DECLARED FROM MAY 27 TO JUNE 4 THIS YEAR

Get Fire Permits From Fire Chief Before Burning Debris

"Clean Up Week," urged each spring as a time for the public to employ its collective rake, and to polish up the premises, has been officially declared for Niles from May 27 to June 4, according to a statement made this week by officials of the Niles fire department.

Sponsored by the fire district, the week was so arranged as to include two Sundays and one holiday, in order that recalcitrant businessmen may have no legitimate excuse for neglecting their back yards.

In order that the danger of fires may be reduced, it has been made mandatory that permits be secured from Fire Chief Tony Alves before burning rubbish or grass within the limits of the district. The firemen will be prepared, and at the request of any resident, will supervise the burning of grass on vacant lots. It is imperative, however, that the grass first be cleared away from buildings and fences.

Chief Tony Alves and Clarence Crane report that the condition of the town's back alleys is much better than expected, after making a tour of inspection last week. a number of fire hazards were located ,and will be cleaned up, Crane said.

PROGRESSIVES MAP CAMPAIGN TO FORM FIRE DEPARTMENT

Canvass Of Irvington Residents Met With Enthusiasm

In the hands of the younger businessmen of the town, the Irvington fire district campaign, conceived two weeks ago, is progressing under the stimulus of necessity. During the past week, following a meeting at which the proposal was met favorably, residents of the district have been contacted in order that a cross section of the general opinion may be had. It is the opinion of the progressives, that the department will be formed before the end of the summer.

During the many years that Irvington has been a cohesive and definite community, there has never been any sort of preparation made to deal with conflagrations, according to those acquainted with the history of the place. Since the formation of fire districts in the surrounding towns, and the purchase of equipment, it has been the duty of these organized departments to see that Irvington fires were extinguished. In the opinion of many Irvington residents, homes there that have been destroyed by fire could have been saved by a well equipped home department.

At the conclusion of the public survey, plans and costs of the proposed district will be submitted to the board of supervisors, it is said.

Chief Fred Rogers and Frank Madruga, of the Centerville department, spoke at another meet held at Irvington Tuesday night and advised the committee on the project to call a mass meeting. The gathering will be held on the night of June 1. Rogers will obtain an able speaker on organization from among the chiefs of surrounding rural departments.

CHURCH GATHERING DISRUPTED BY IRATE SPOUSE

That domestic affairs ,no matter how urgent, may not be carried to the point where they disturb religious gatherings, is a lesson ruefully learned by Peter Santiago, of Decoto, as he serves a ten day sentence in the county jail after a fracas at the Decoto Pentecostal church Sunday.

Santiago pleaded guilty to disturbing the meeting before Judge J. A. Silva, at the Niles courthouse Monday, and was consigned to the bastille.

The trouble arose when Santiago, whose wife was at the church meeting, requested her to come home with him. She left the church, spoke with her husband, then returned. Santiago, apparently not satisfied with her reasons for remaining, entered the church again, but before he could utter a syllable, was seized by the now outraged congregation and propelled vigorously out of the edifice. Enraged by the rough handling, Santiago, is said to have nullified the services with profuse profanity. He was taken into custody.

TOYON BRANCH TO PARTICIPATE IN BAZAAR AT MILLS

Fete In Conjunction With Horse Show May 25 and 26

Junior members and officers of the Toyon Branch of the Children's hospital were guests of Mrs. W. H. Oliver, hospital president. Monday at a luncheon held in Oakland at the hospital buildings.

Discussion of the afternoon centered around the projected participation of the Toyon Branch in a children's hospital bazaar to be given in conjunction with the horse show at Mills College, Oakland, on Friday and Saturday of this week.

The opportunity to conduct the bazaar while the horse show will be in progress was afforded the hospital by Mills college. It is the expectation of hospital officials that the two affairs will abet one another, both financially and from a standpoint of pleasure.

Those who met with Mrs. Oliver Monday were: Mrs. J. R. Whipple Miss Mildred Nauart, and the Misses Lorraine and Dorothy Smith.

The Toyon Branch will conduct a booth for the sale of doughnuts and nut bread, the latter made famous at Baby hospital fetes by Mrs. J. E. Thane.

Louis Lewis, of Niles, stricken with pneumonia recently, was removed from his home to the Highland hospital last week. His condition is improving slowly.

Dr. N. Catherine Holden, pending opening of an office in Niles, will conduct business at the Brioza residence, north of Niles. Phone Niles 48.—M10c.

The Forces of Absolutism Hammering Away at Foundation of Democracy.

There was not an inconsiderable number of the American people who were apprehensive, at the beginning of the Roosevelt administration, that the country might drift or rather be guided, into communism. Subsequent events have proven that their fears were quite groundless.

A far greater and more observing element of Americans were uneasy about the possible establishment of a dictorship. There were grounds for this fear then, and there still are reasons to be on guard, for the price of liberty is eternal vigilance. The movement of the Roosevelt policies is toward Fascism. The multiplicity of codes is an idea borrowed from Mussolini. A code is primarily the aspiration for monopoly. It is to protect those who have, and following out the Biblical parable, it is to help along the idea that to him that has shall be given. Carried out in the manner in which it is now progressing, it will eventually force to the wall every small concern. It will increase the cost of living; and for the average wage-earner and agriculturist generally, there will be no compensating features. The larger commercial units will succeed in eliminating the small-fry competition, the members of whom by doing most of their own work and with low rent, can exist in spite of the fact that their product is often inferior in quality to that of the big concern and their service not wrapped up in colored paper and tied with a silken cord.

Even the Mediocre Must Live

The world is filled with varying ability, and the tools at the command of artisans are so dissimilar that comparison is impossible. But whether a man is clever or dull, works with a hand-saw or a band saw, he must live He is entitled to a chance to grow, to expand, or to stand still, if the uphill fight is too much for him. The new order strikes at the small business, and the beginner in the industrial world. There will be a standard price, standard wages, a code, a rule, a regulation for every move.

This is indeed a new deal; but not what the voter contemplated. The average American when he voted the Roosevelt ticket envisaged the new deal as the beginning of more equitable distribution of the wealth of the land. The writer had thought, with millions of others, that an effort would be made to limit the amount of money an individual might accumulate. He had thought it was clearly understood that the "Forgotten Man" was the underdog or the great middle class of Americans, who were carrying the tax load and finding themselves each year more involved in debt. Doubtless he was mistaken in this assumption He also erred in believing that the "new deal," interpreted into simple language, was to open up new opportunities for the simple folk of the land to own their own businesses and their own plots of ground. We thought this might be brought about by halting the flow of gold into the hands of the few, and by the diffusion of the surplus among the many. The 'Forgotten Man" proved but a campaign slogan, and if it was true that he was forgotten under Coolidge and Hoover, now the suspicion grows that he is not only forgotten but is about to be buried.

Organized Capital and Organized Labor Have the Ear of the Administration

Every major move of the present administration is to strengthen capital and organized labor. They are the only two units worth considering, apparently. Monopoly, growing since the days of William McKinley, has now reached the flowering. It is at the point of perfection. Rural America is caught in between the upper and nether millstones and, unless the voter rebukes the democratic administration at the coming fall elections, all over America, it will be ground to death.

Permit an individual to hold millions, and he is outside of the law. Just as long as you countenance a handfull of individuals controlling the

Ignition Coil May Be Cause of Engine Stall

A weather eye out for ignition and battery troubles before they occur, is a sane and profitable method of preventing stalling in traffic, or on a steep hill, according to Ed. Rose, local Goodrich dealer.

"A weak ignition coil," Rose said "makes starting difficult, missing at high speeds and on steep pulls." He said that strong coil will sometimes make a motor perform well even if the battery is weak."

A Memorial Day Poem

The guns are still . . . Peace lends its magic charms
Where rows of crosses mark the resting place;
Of those responding to the "Call to Arms"
Our fallen heroes, pride of every race.

No more their foot-steps mingle with the throng,
Their warm, young hearts no longer pulse and throb;
No joyous voices raised in laugh or song—
No sound across God's acres—but a sob.

Upon the field of battle heroes lay—
Finest blood of America was spilled;
They paused to neither count the cost . . . nor pay,
As dear, brave hearts became forever stilled.

Must they lie sleeping while the world forgets?
Their sacrifices only history?
Their memories a chain of vain regrets—
The Legion of the Unknown Mystery?

A million hearts reach out from coast to coast,
A million hands shall raise the torch o'er head;
Comrades of every Veteran Post—
Are loyal to . . . Battalions of the Dead.

Lest we forget the distant rumbling guns,
The aftermath of War's grim, ruthless spoil;
The rows of crosses . . . America's True Sons,
Are comrades . . . consecrating alien soil.

—Nell Farrington Myers.

money-market of the land and the major industries, just that long will this group exploit the people to its profit.. More than that, IT WILL BE THE GOVERNMENT. It does not matter who is president, the coterie of millionaires will run things, and things to suit their selfish ends.

Just an Old Fashioned American

Do not draw the conclusion that the writer is a socialist. He is not. Rather he is an old fashioned American who believes that conditions a generation ago were best. That was before vast holdings began ominously to arise upon the economic horizon. Persons worth a hundred thousand were few and far apart. Every youth planned, and with a chance of fulfillment, to some day own his own business. There were no vast commercial houses stretching from coast to coast. Every town had its cigar factory, its planing mill, its broom factory. Now two or three great tobacco concerns control the market. The planing mill and the broom factory are no longer a part of a small community. And that is but a suggestion of the vast change wrought in just about a score of years.

What we need is the opportunity to accumulate a small competency, and should we gain that desideratum, be forced by law to quit accumulating more. "Live and let live." Such a policy would cure many of our economic ills.

The Gap Between the Well-to-Do and the Poor Widening

Corruption in government is the natural sequence of the tremendous power of the few. Dissatisfaction of the many is due largely to the fact that the masses own nothing, other than perhaps an automobile of ancient model. The chance to own something tangible, under present conditions is slight. It will be even more difficult under the present plan, as now unfolding.

The competitive system is the most acceptable form of government. What we need is to dissolve its gigantic units, built up through abuses of the system. To scrap the system is wrong; to correct its evils, is wisdom.

Time to Fight for Your Heritage of Freedom Before It Is Too Late

In the meantime it is the duty of those Americans who yet believe in individual liberty, and the fundamentals of democratic government, to raise their voices against the leadership of Roosevelt, under whose magnetic personality the movement is rapidly taking form to supplant the initiative of the individual by the planned procedure of code dictators, who in turn take orders from the blustering, arrogant, intemperate Johnson—the same Johnson, who, asking for criticism and getting it, threw up a breastworks of secret-service men before the doors of the United States Printing Office to prevent reporters from getting a glimpse of the Darrow report before the Johsonian answer could come off the government presses. The document was public. But what matter to the kitchen cabinet of 1934. Such procedure, true enough, has never happened before in "free" America. But, then you know, this is a government of the boy braintrusters, to whom constitutional safeguards are but musty scraps of paper, and the ideas of Mussolini, Hitler and Stalin Holy Writ.

It is up to us, then, who still hang not our heads abjectly and apologetically for constitutional government, to protest with all the power of voice and pen; and, while yet we can retain our political franchise, vote against candidates friendly to that damnable doctrine of kings and dictators of whatever stripe—that the chosen few are born supermen; and by some strange alchemy of fate heavenly endowed to rule the millions, who, according to autocratic theory, are too ignorant to rule themselves.

TOMATO ACREAGE TO BE EQUAL TO LAST YEAR

Acreage of late tomatoes (fresh market varieties) in the state this season will run about the same as last year, although the planting by districts will vary greatly from the 1933 figures, according to reports made after a recent survey.

Many points will register a decrease, but this drop will be balanced by increases in other sections.

Southern Alameda county acreages, plus the acreage of Santa Clara county will total about 1200 acres this fall, a jump of about 20 percent over the planting of 1933.

Monterey and Santa Cruz counties generally heavy producers, will show a drop of about 40 percent over the 2700 acres planted in 1933.

SUPPORT OF VETS URGED DURING POPPY WEEK

(By Nell F. Meyers)

Memorial Day brings memories to all of us.It brings to our minds Veterans of past and present wars. Memories of those who gave their all on the fields of battle and those who are still fighting, those for whom the Armistice has not yet sounded.

It is these boys who make the little red Flanders poppy. The flower fashioned by feeble hands, by those in the vast army of the disabled—and who through the medium of the American Legion Auxiliary members, throughout the land will find a market for their symbolic product.

Lets us all render our assistance to this great National observance of those who died on Flanders Fields—and aid to those brave lads who are still carrying on in the Government hospitals scattered across the land.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH NEWS

The pastor has chosen a text from St. John for the sermon-theme for the Sunday morning service. The text is, "This is MY commandment, that ye love one another, as I have loved you." We need a new standard of measurement today if we are to pull ourselves out of our difficulties. An old order is passing away. Using Christ as the standard for all men, an attempt will be made by the pastor to bring this commandment from the past down to date.

Reflector Sign Points To Oakland at Subway

After a recommendation by the Niles Chamber of Commerce recently, a brilliant reflector sign, pointing the way to Oakland, was installed last week at the west subway. Bearing the inscription, "Oakland" with a large arrow beneath, the new marker should once and for all keep motorists on the right track.

Fear of accidents caused by hesitating motorists in the past led Niles businessmen to request that the sign be installed.

Short Wave Radio Set At Niles Courthouse

News of police car movements and calls from headquarters are available at all times for local police authorities after the installation of a short wave radio set in the Niles courthouse. The set was set up by Deputy Sheriff Hugo Radbruch and Constable O. W. Ebright. Radbruch, who has a radio in his car and one at his home, is in constant communication with the sheriff's office of all times after the installation in Niles.

Why Doctors Favor a Liquid Laxative

A doctor will tell you that the careless use of strong laxatives may do more harm than good.

Harsh laxatives often drain the system, weaken the bowel muscles, and even affect the liver and kidneys.

Fortunately, the public is fast returning to laxatives in liquid form. The dose of a liquid laxative can be measured. The action can thus be regulated to suit individual need. It forms no habit; you needn't take a "double dose" a day or two later.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin gently helps the average person's bowels back to regularity. Why not try it? Some pill or tablet may be more convenient to carry. But there is little "convenience" in any cathartic which is taken so frequently, you must carry it with you, wherever you go!

Its very taste tells you Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is wholesome. A delightful taste, and delightful action. Safe for expectant mothers, and children. All druggists, ready for use, in big bottles. Member N. R. A.

LONE STARS BEAT KRAFTILE NINE 12-9 SUNDAY

Good hitting, coupled with lean fielding, Sunday boosted the Niles Lone Stars to a 12 to 9 victory over the Kraftile nine, also of Niles.

Among those of Macrado's Lone Star charges who played well were Bill Lanfri, Robello and Mel Teeter. Bernard, a newcomer to the nine, showed the boys how to hit. Reno Quarteroli, starting pitcher did well. He was relieved in the seventh by Jimmy Cull.

Marks, Santos, and Brown, of the losers played steady ball.

"I'm Practising," Says Fireman to Fire Warden

Clarence Crane, Niles assistant fire chief, almost ran afoul of the law early Sunday morning when he and a group of smoke-eaters from Niles undertook to burn off a large grass plot on the Sylvia ranch at Sunol.

The crux of the situation is that Crane forgot to issue himself a fire permit, so when J. Silva, deputy fire warden, arrived on the hazy scene, attracted by volumes of smoke, Crane and his assistants had to talk long and fast. It may be said that Crane was particularly convincing, for not only was he allowed to go scot free, but was actually invited "to come up and burn some more grass sometime."

Holy Ghost Plans Are Completed

Final arrangements for the annual Holy Ghost celebration to be sponsored by the Pleasanton I. D. E. S. lodge on May 26 and 27 are well advanced according to Frank Avilla, Sr., chairman.

The parade will be headed by the Amador Valley high school band under the direction of Harry Tripp. Following will be the Mission San Jose drill team under the direction of Miss Hazel Mendoza. Others in the line of march will be representatives of I. D. E. S. councils from the nearby cities, and the Pleasanton American Legion drum corps.

At the end of the parade will be the queen, Miss Edwina Rodrigues, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Rodrigues, of Pleasanton. She will be escorted by a court of four girls and two attendants.

At eleven thirty the parade will march from the church to the I. D. E. S. grounds where a free barbecue will be served to everyone. At two o'clock a dance will be held until six o'clock in the evening.

NILES-SAN LEANDRO WILL TANGLE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Bobbles and errors in the first three innings of the game between Niles and Newark Sunday put the Niles boys in a 5 to 0 hole before the now traditional Niles fight built up the final score of twelve to five in favor of the local nine.

Scoring three runs in the third inning, three runs in the fifth, and three more in both the sixth and eighth, Niles ended the contest well out of danger and headed toward the championship of first half of the league. Next Sunday will be deciding contest, when the undefeated San Leandro club tangles with the local boys. Niles is slated to win.

In last Sunday's game the score was tied five all in the fifth when Tony Duarte cracked out a homer with one man on base.

Jimmy Cull at second, Robello in the outfield, Raso, Amyx and Blacow, all played good ball. C. Pine led the Niles hitters with three for five.

Double plays, three of them, featured the contest. Niles may have made two more, had the plays clicked.

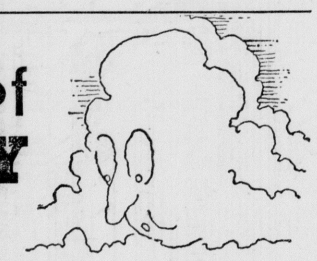
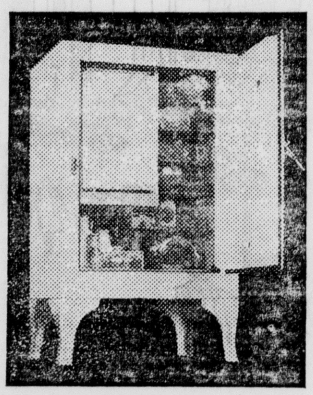
Beware of THIRSTY AIR





WHEN air is chilled, it loses its natural moisture. It becomes thirsty air..ready to suck moisture from anything it touches.

In an ice refrigerator, the chilled air quenches its thirst...not from your foods...but from the melting ice.

That's why ice, and only ice, supplies nondrying cold that preserves the delicate juices and natural freshness of your foods.

1934 ICE REFRIGERATORS bring you the finest refrigeration money can buy. Yet they cost less to buy and less to own than any mechanical substitute. Ask your ice man about the low prices and easy terms available on these beautiful new refrigerators that provide lower temperatures with less ice.

For safe cold . . . plus flavor protection..use ICE
